the text, "Be ye angry and sin not."
Some of the points made are as follows:
Dr. Adam Clark claims that in this text their is an incorrect rendering of the original, it should be, "Be not angry lest ye sin." He contended that the whole tenor of the scriptures led him to believe that Dr. Clark is correct. He therefore took the position that as we understand the word and the state of anger, that—

that—

I. We are not justifiable under any circustances of which we can conceive in becoming angry.

II. That there is an element of strength in anger in the form of wisdom, prudence, goodness, physical or intellectual force, no one will be foolish enough to attempt to establish.

The young lolks meeting was held as usual at the tabermade at 03 o'clock. Rev. D. H. Dix preached from the text: "As I live saith the Lord I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked," &c. If sins remain in the heart when God summor , though it be but one, the result will death.

He first noticed the death spoken of i the text. It is not temporal death. It is not temporal death. It is not a spiritual death for the wicked are again. It is said that one great y in the flour trade is that some after having taken pains by care in the death of the wicked. This is shown in the death of the wicked. This is shown in the death of the wicked. This is shown in the fact that he made provision for us to escape the effects of the fall. Christ tasted death for all. All the means of grace are open to him. He has given a but the public soon discover it, when flour or anything else deteriorates, and they avoid the brand afterwards. In business, a man to succeed must be attentive to it all thetime. It will not do to rely too much upon past reputation, but day by day, care must be taken to keep that reputation good. Few trades have shown this more plainly than the manufacture of flour. There are brands of flour now in me that have been favorites for a score of years, and their steady sale and popularity are evidences of the care taken in their manufacture, the millers producing them being as careful now in their selections of wheat and the process of manufacture as they were when their selections of wheat and the process of manufacture as they were when their product first came into market. Then, again, flour dealers can tell you of brands that have enjoyed a fitful popularity, and then suddenly run out. The order was signed by a man named Harris, and stated that Rivers a colored militia General of South munition, which was furnished and dis-tributed to local companies. Every prep-aration was made for the conflict, but measures were also taken to prevent a collision, and by dusk this evening eighty megroes charged with being ring leaders in the movement were arrested. It is al-leged that the correspondence captured leads to a conspiracy among the negroes extending through Jefferson and Burke Co. It is now feared that the white will not await the process of law but will lynch the prisoners. Moderation is counselled, but fears for the worst are entertained.

not await the process of law, but will lynch the prisoners. Moderation is counselled, but lears for the worst are entertained. Many believe the affair has been exaggerated—that nomischief was intended. A letter similar to the order above given was intercepted in Hancock county some time ago, and the whites then armed for the conflict, but none came. At the present time there is great alarm prevailing in the counties threatened and the slightest imprudence may cause disastrous consequences. In an editorial notice of the above dispatch the Times says: Up to the present point the alarm seems Indicrous, but when we think of the possible fate of the negroes in the hands of the militia, crazy with fear, it has a scrious look.

A COLLISION IMMINENT.

AUGUSTA, GA, Angust 19.—The arrests of the alleged negro insurrectionists in John, Washington and Jefferson counties were continued today. Thirteen armed negroes came into Wrightsville and surrendered themselves. In Burke county a collision between the white and blacks is seems shourly imminent. Both races are inder arms, and the negroes are reported to be massed a few miles from. Waynesboro, and white seouts were fired on by the negroes this morning. The Burke county people sent here to-day for troops but Governor Smith declined to let any companies go. A number of volunteers left for Waynesboro to-night, and it is feared that a fight will soon take place. A hundred arrests have been made in the A COLLISION IMMINENT. MEMPHIB, August 19.—The following lettler is published in many papers:
Hoa. P. Kimpole, Secretary of the Winnebago County Agricultural Society of Rockford, Ills. DEAR SIR: Yesterday I sent you a telegram announcing my revocation of my conditional acceptance of an invitation to address your association at their annual meeting in Septembernext. A long time has elapsed since the receipt of your first letter, and the considerate courtesy which has marked your correspondence make it my meeting in Septembernext. A long time has allapsed since the receipt of your first leter, and the considerate courtesy which has a marked your correspondence make it my duty to the board, and to mysolf that a sufficient explanation should be given of this change of purpose and the objects which mainly induced me to accept the invitation. Ist, I hoped this personal intercorrect might remove some of the prejudices which had been generated by partizan faction and nurtured by individual and sectional hate. Anxious all now as in former years to promote the interests of our great Valley of the Mississippi, and believing that with mutual confidence and co-intelligence much could be done for their advancement, I only deal layed my acceptance of your invitation until it became reasonably probable that the engagement could be met.

The productive capacity of the Northwest needs for its development cheaper and safer transportation to the markets of the South and East, and also to those of foreign countries. In England especial attention has been directed for several years past to more direct and economical trade with the Mississip Valley. In this connection especial attention has been directed for several years past to more direct and economical trade with the Mississippi Valley. In this connection there was a desire to confer with the patrons of husbandry sin your rich and prosperous sections, to discuss with them the questions involved in securing better means of transporting your farm products to the most favorable makets, and of providing agencies which should insure of providing agencies which should insure arger returns to farmers by such conlarger returns to farmers by such con-member of the family of the Mississippi Valley, a family, the chief interest of all the members of which is agriculture, the cultivation of such various crops as to make trade among themselves extensive and lucrative while it stamps upon each and all the same interests and the same policy as to their foreign trade. To render such a conference effectual, there must needs be a disposition to at-tend to the subject under consideration, surely not to propose to smother it by tend to the subject under consideration, surely not to propose to smother it by the interposition of matters having no just relation to it. A second object was to recognize the courtesy of your Hoard, and I was encouraged to believe that your reception of me would be beneficial rather than injurious to your Association. This was more supposable because several other agricultural societies of Illinois, had in like manner invited me to address their annual meeting. Yesterday I also received a printed paper being a protest of your fellow countrymen against the acme to make the annual address at their county fair. Thereupon I sent to you a telegram withdrawing my acceptance of the invitation, under the conviction that it would not be useful or agreeable to participate in the meeting, and I now hope that neither your association or its directors will suffer harm by the delay in progening an orator, or by the correspondence which has caused it.

My object was to graifly a wish long entertained to see in its cultivated state a country known to me as a trackless wilderness, but that heing merely a personal gratification. It may be indulged at my convenience or postponed indefinitely. I may well believe that the cause which has changed flay purpose was as unforscen by you as by me, and you may be assured that I feel no dissatisfaction towards the directors or yourself, and have suffered no personal embarrassment from the event, as the invitation was unexpected and only accepted as an expression of and only accepted as an expression of general good will. So my only regret is the loss of an opportunity to promote the public interest, with which the welthe plants interest, with which the were fare of your community is identified. Again expressing the hope that neither the directors or yourself may suffer in-jury or annoyance, and thanking you for the kindness and consideration you have manifested, I am respectfully yours, JEFFERSON DAVIS,
